Icebreakers!

After introducing ourselves, we will ask delegates to state their name, grade, and school/city.

For delegates to get comfortable with one another, they will then participate in a sit-and-stand icebreaker. There will be eight different slides with topics such as “stand if you have a pet” and “sit if you prefer autumn.” After each person stands or remains seated, we will ask them why they chose their answer! It will also blend nicely into our main activity: the personality quiz.

Note: For those unable to stand, we will have them raise/lower their hand

Activity 1: The Personality Quiz

Each delegate will have a copy of the worksheet below where they will follow along with the slides and record their answers. Each slide of the presentation will have three different questions with two answers labeled either A or B. Delegates will choose either A or B for each question and, afterward, tally up their letters to see whether they had more As or Bs. Once we have gone through the four slides of questions, delegates will record their final letter sequence (EX: AABB). From here, we will go over each leadership type and its corresponding letter sequences!

Activity 2: Breakout Groups

The four corners of the classroom will each be assigned a leadership type. Once delegates have learned about their type, they will meet up with other delegates of the same type and discuss a few discussion questions!

- How do you think your team would handle fighting a dragon?
- Do you see any benefit in having a leader of a different type on your knight unit?
- Do you think knights of your leadership type would use sword or archery skills in battle?
- How can you use your leadership type in your council?
